

Project Excellence

Facilitators Project Controls Consultancy offers the experienced, reliable answer to improving your Project Management, Planning, Cost Control and Risk Management disciplines - helping you to increase your Project and Operational performance.

How can Facilitators Project Controls Consultancy help you?

- Provision of independent, specialist consulting support in the management and control of operations and projects.
- Carrying out process 'health checks' for you in all areas of project controls. This involves identifying system, application and behavioural strengths and improvement areas. We can then help you prioritise issues and their importance in improving performance, establish the value identified changes would bring and benchmark against other organisations.
- Assessing competence levels of your Project Controls staff - helping you with succession planning and identification of training and development needs.
- Providing mentoring support for your people in order to develop project controls competency within your business.
- Introducing Enterprise Planning methodologies to optimise cross-asset/project resources and thinking.

In Project Controls - for each of the disciplines of Project Management, Planning and Cost Control we can:

- Provide people who can coach and mentor others and who can undertake project controls duties on your behalf.
- Using subject matter experts we can help you ensure you have the right people, systems and processes in place. We can help you develop effective KPIs for these service level expectations.

For risk management please see our separate information sheet which will provide you with details about shutdown and project risk management processes to help your team identify, quantify and mitigate your risks - linking back into your activity plans. These techniques are as applicable to an offshore construction project as the launch of a new product.

Project Excellence

What are the benefits?
